

Springfield Reunion

Confederate veterans of both Federal and Confederate armies will rejoice at the reception given the old Confederates in Springfield, Massachusetts, on the 4th of July. This is the first occasion we recall when representatives of a Confederate camp in the South have been entertained in such hospitable manner by New England and it will do much to bring that section and the South in closer touch than has been the case since the civil war. The Petersburg veterans went to Springfield, an original abolitionist town, at the special invitation of its G. A. R. post and from all accounts the Southerners who fought with Lee and Jackson received the warmest kind of a welcome, not only from the men who followed Grant and McClellan, but from the entire population of the city. Neither was the welcome lacking in tact, for we are told that the old soldiers marched, not only to the strains of national airs, but to the tune of their beloved Dixie as well.

Such meetings as these have often been held in Fredericksburg and Petersburg and Richmond, but they have been too few in the North. They have accomplished wonders down here in obliterating old feelings of bitterness and they will do the same in Springfield or Boston or any other New England town. New England and the South used to be mightily close together and there is no reason why the old conditions shouldn't obtain once more.

Senator Lodge is to have opposition in Massachusetts. Perhaps this accounts for his desire to be close to Colonel Roosevelt. The latter's influence would be a tremendous help to Henry Cabot.

Another reform party is about to be launched in Pennsylvania. That State can never get too many such parties; and, even though they never reform her, yet it is encouraging to see them try.

THE 4TH'S CASUALTY LIST

Deaths Drop From 44 to 28 and Injured From 2361 to 1785.

Chicago, July 6.—The value of a sensible and restrained observance of the Fourth of July has again been demonstrated by the casualty list of this year's celebration. In almost every city and town where the sale and explosion of fireworks were prohibited or restricted there has been a decided falling off in the number of dead and injured, compared with previous years.

This year's list of dead throughout the country, so far reported, totals 28. Last year the same total was 44. The whose number of injured last year was 2361. This year there were only 1785. These figures show enormous conservation of human life.

Dead, 28—By fireworks and resulting fires, 7; by firearms, 11; by gunpowder, 4; by toy pistols, 6.

Injured, 1785—By fireworks, 882; by cannon, 169; by gunpowder, 236; by torpedoes, 74; by toy pistols, 126; by bombcases, 27; by runaway, 28.

FREDERICKSBURG COLLEGE

FREDERICKSBURG, VA.

Read What Those Who Know Say About Our College:

Federicksburg, Va., June, 1910.

As an exaltation of learning, the College takes a high place among us; with a moral tone as excellent as any college with which I am acquainted. The Board of Professors are well equipped for their work, being good, capable men and women.

Hubert H. Barber, Rector Trinity Episcopal Church. King George, Va., June 14th, 1910.

Mr. S. W. Somerville.

Dear Sir: I think that a student at Fredericksburg College profits more for the amount expended than any school that I have been able to find; because of this, and the important fact that it is under religious influence and is morally a clean school, I wish my son to remain until he graduates.

Sincerely yours, Byrd T. Turner, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Fredericksburg, Va., June 10th, 1910.

I have long been familiar with the management of this College, have had sons partially educated there, and have found that the boys and girls therein trained have reflected great credit upon it. For good scholarship, for Christian and moral up-building it has few superiors. Any one having the welfare of children or wards at heart can do no better than to patronize this school. Its curriculum is up to the best standards.

John T. Goolrick, Judge of Corporation Court.

There is no institution of learning to whose guardianship parents can commit their boys or girls with fuller confidence and satisfaction as to their moral and spiritual interests.

Signed, J. H. Henderlite, Pastor Presbyterian Church. Fredericksburg, Va., June 14, 1910.

Mr. S. W. Somerville, Fredericksburg, Va.

Dear Sir: Having had two daughters taking the regular collegiate course, and one of them music in addition, for the past three years, I am in a position to appreciate the high character of instruction given in both departments.

Very truly yours, Ralph Izard, Farmer.

Prof. S. W. Somerville, Fredericksburg College, Fredericksburg, Va.

My Dear Sir: I went direct from Fredericksburg College to the Law Department of the University of Virginia, and found the training I'd received amply sufficient to enable me to get my B. L. degree within the two years prescribed at that time by the University.

Yours very truly, Wm. W. Butzner, Commonwealth's Attorney. Fredericksburg, Va., June 9, 1910.

As a patron of Fredericksburg College it gives me pleasure to recommend it. Its physical, mental and moral trainings are most excellent, and I regard it as one of the best schools in Virginia.

J. E. Mason, Judge 15th Circuit.

Especially would I commend the College for its moral influence, and where formation of character along right lines is of supreme importance to any parent this institution deserves consideration. If education is more than mental culture, then this institution merits patronage for its training of the scholar mentally, morally, spiritually.

R. J. McBryde, Rector St. George's Church.

Prof. F. A. Franklin, Director Musical Department Fredericksburg College.

Dear Sir: The College is fortunate in having your services, and the large number of enthusiastic patrons is the best evidence of the esteem in which the department is held.

Very truly yours, J. W. Adams, Merchant. Fredericksburg, Va., June 10th, 1910.

There is a home life about the College and a courtesy and consideration among the students and between the students and the Faculty that is especially attractive and desirable.

I do not know of any school where parents can with greater safety trust their children for the prosecution of their studies and for a careful, painstaking, moral training.

A. P. Rowe, Editor and Tax Collector. Fredericksburg, Va., June 16, 1910.

My little daughter, Frances, has been a pupil in the Primary Department of Fredericksburg College for the past two years and I am very much pleased with her progress.

H. M. Eckenrode, D. D. S. Hazel Hill, Fredericksburg, Va., June 16th, 1910.

This is to certify that I believe the Musical Department of Fredericksburg College is conducted in an efficient and painstaking manner.

Henry Warden, Farmer. Fredericksburg, Va., June 14th, 1910.

It gives me great pleasure to testify of my appreciation of Fredericksburg College. I have had two boys there for several years, and the marked improvement in studies and general deportment of each I attribute largely to the College and its association. Next session I hope to send three children.

Yours truly, J. P. Rowe. Fredericksburg, Va., June 9th, 1910.

The College is a decided factor in the moral uplift of our city, and her students have always made a fine impression upon our people. I know many of them personally and am always ready to serve them in any way possible.

Faithfully yours, R. Aubrey Williams, Pastor Baptist Church.
